CHARANJEET SINGH SONDHI

SINGER — PLAYBACK SINGER — PERFORMER

Charanjeet Singh Sondhi is second son to Late Gurmukh Singh and Smt. Amarjeet Kaur Sondhi, born in Balaghat- Madhya Pradesh, Central India. He is a graduate in Bachelors of Commerce. Since the very advent he always had the zeal to attract crowds, He played state level hockey till his adulthood and finally attended his calling for music thereafter. Little he had known that it would be the same passion and devotion to music that will make him the first Punjabi international artist from the state of Madhya Pradesh and Chhattisgarh.

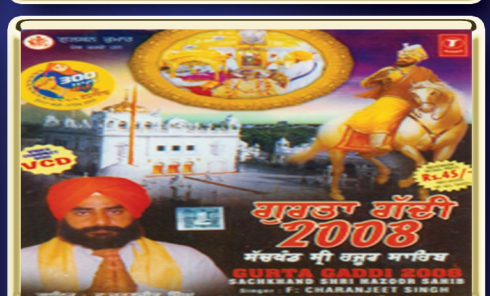

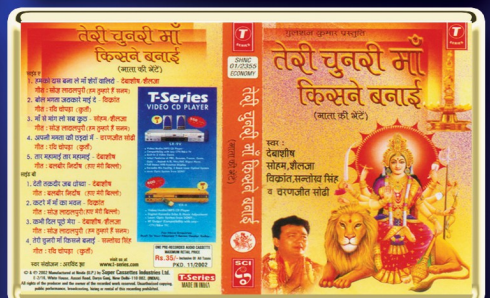

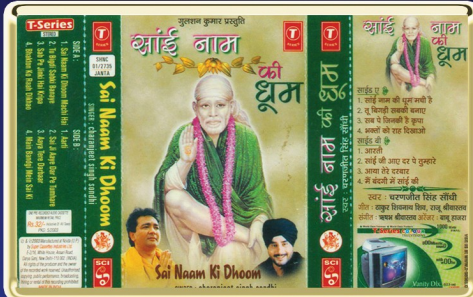

His laurels and accolades include the coveted 'Kishore Kumar Award', Ghazal competition 'Bait Baazo' and many more hosted by reputed channels like ETV and PTC. His big break came in 2001, from the then T-Series music company director Shri Kishan Kumar, where he got the opportunity to feature as a playback singer in the album 'Maa ke darbaar hai Jaana'. The album featured many popular and established singers like Debashish, Preeti, Pinky, Javed Ali, Soham, Kalpana, Priya Bhat-tacharya. Later he recorded more than 10 religious albums on Lord Shri Ram, Lord Shivji, Goddess Mata Vaishno Devi etc.

Charanjeet Singh Sondhi's pinnacle in his early days came in the form of his solo bhajan album named 'Hey Ganpati tera naam bada' with T-Series; which was a massive hit in the circles of Madhya Pradesh and Maharashtra and later with the album 'Sai Baba ki Dhoom'. In 2005, T-Series released another hit album "Holi Hits" amongst which his track 'Main nikla rang leke' gained nationwide popularity and still can be heard during the holi festive times. In the respective time frame he also recorded few songs in A R Rehman's remix album Vol2 & 1-; following some tracks in the remix album "O Hansini" by Universal music.

Being a Sikh it was obvious that Charanjeet Singh have a passion for Punjabi and he got the opportunity for the same by T-Series to record the song 'Putaan de Dard' from the Punjabi album "Dard" for which he nomination in the "Punjabi International Awards 2006" in the Best Debut Category amongst many famous Punjabi singers from India and Abroad. This song is still considered as a soul breaker in the national and international frames and is in regular demand during his private concerts.

Charanjeet Singh Sondhi is a versatile vocalist who has a diversified multi-lingual singing experience. He has already led his soothing voice to different genres and in different languages including- Hindi, Punjabi, Bhojpuri, Marathi, Bengali, etc. He has also performed in over 100 concerts nationwide and in international locations like - Dubai and Toronto. Often cited as event manager's favourite for his polite nature and professional commitments. He is currently involved in launching his new track in Punjabi language in the genre of Pop and is working on covers for different movie tracks.
